The concert will be under the management of Professor Schultz, and among the participants are Miss Jennie Magevney, Mrs. Caspsky, Professor Hollenberg, Messrs, Petersen, J. Wilkina and Tomhisson. The object of this concert invites a large support from the public, and assurance is given that the evening will be one of much pleasure and joy to those who attend.

—Chancellors Morgan and Walker were stiting together yesterday, in the first chancery courtroom, hearing the test cases involving the constitutionality and validity of the act of the legislature authorizing the commissioner of revenue for Shelby county, Butler P. Anderson, to collect taxes due from delinquent tax-payers, by proceedings in chancery, for the sale of their lands under the decrees of the chancery courts. The argument will be continued to-day. Over a million of dollars of back taxes in Shelby county depend on the decision of these cases. The revenue commissioner is represented by H. Clay King, E. C. McDowell, U. W. Miller and R. F. Murreul, while the delinquent tax-payers are represented by Messrs, Haynes & Stockton, Ellett, Estes & Jackson; Jarmagia & Frayser, Colonel Gantt, Judge Pierce, E. S. Hammond, Esq., and by nearly all the members of the Memphis bar. This is one of the most, if not the most important suit, ever argued in Memphis, and its decision is anxiously awaited.

Call to Reopen the Overton Hotel During the Carnival. As there are thousands of strangers

As there are thousands of strangers coming here from abroad to attend our Mardi Gras festivities, and our hotels, when all are open, would not be sufficient to accommodate a fortieth part of the people whom we have invited and who are coming, in justice to our city, her merchants and her people, we call on Mr. Robbins to open his well-known hostelry during the carnival, and herewith call upon our merchants to start a subscription list as a gnarantee fund to insure him against loss, and we each subscribe two hundred and fifty dollars. Respectfully, 1.0U LEUBRIE, COLITON GREENE.

Councilman Happek remarked that the city charter only allowed them to employ four detectives, and it would certainly be absurd, in the face of the present embarrassed condition of the city, and the charter, to employ additional policemen. Another fact was that they had not been able to pay for months those already in the employ of the city. He would, therefore, oppose the recommendation. Councilman Hughes thought they had got along very well with four detectives for the past two years, and in his opinion only four detectives were requisite. He contended that the chief of the detective force had got plenty of power, but he wanted to know what he or his force had done in regard to burglaries of the past few weeks. If they could not do better, he would be in favor of removing them all. He was opposed to the increase of the sanitary force, as they had to pay each member of that force from ninety to one hundred dollars per month, and for the amount proposed to be expended they could employ half-a-dozen men to clean the streets.

The vote was then taken on the report, and resulted as follows: Ayes—Kelly, Thomas—2. First Circuit Court-Heiskell, Judge.
